EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA:::::::JULY 15.

☞ Why does the Journal and Messenger not come to us promptly?

☞ Roscoe Conkling has telegraphed Secretary Boutwell, that the Pacific Railroad is honestly constructed, safe, comfortable and equal to any new road.

☞ See Fourth Page.

THE RADICAL PARTY.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette says, that the disruption of the Radical party is acknowledged by all those presses that live on government pap. The Radicals charge that Democracy is ruptured, but he thinks not. He believes that President Grant, by flinging off party trammels, can make a brilliant administration and arrest the tendency to "transparent humbuggery."

Turner is Arrested.

The Macon Telegraph says that Turner was arrested, yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, by the Deputy United States Marshal. The thing has been threatening for three weeks, and was precipitated by his accomplice, Martha Harris, being discharged on bail. The case is said to be clear The charge is counterfeiting signatures to genuine bank notes of the First National Bank of New Jersey, said notes having been stolen from the United States Treasury, after they were ready to be turned over to the bank officers. W. C. Morrill, Collector, examined him privately, and bound him over in $5,000 to appear to-morrow morning.

Mr. Woodward has charge of the Post-Office.

SAENGERBUND.—This great German Musical Festival, was begun in Baltimore, on Saturday, with large numbers and great enthusiasm. President Steinbach in his opening address, used the following sentiment:

From Goethe, Schiller, Lessing, Wieland, Klopstock, Koerner, Uhland, Arndt and others, we inherited immortal sentiments; Beethoven, Mozart, Weber, Spohr, Mendelssohn, Meyerbeer and others, infused them with soul-inspiring melodies, and the singer achieves the pleasant task to produce the poets' thoughts in harmonious attire, impressive to every human heart. Taught by the feathered songster in forests green foliage, the peasant sings his rural air. With merry mood, humming a tune, returns the Alpine maid to her cottage. Singing and cheerful the wanderer speeds his steps.

Sweetened is the labor of the artisan and the mechanic by the sounds of music.

Verdant-clad nature and a cheerful heart vie in merry song!

Truly, my friends, the spark of song is planted in every breast—to kindle, to nourish if is be our aim. Let us celebrate, then, a festival in which we render homage at the shrine of the goddess of music and taste the goblet of undiminished pleasure!

May harmony in the realm of music be the guiding star of concord and friendship among all nations!

The Oratorio of the Messiah was the great performance of Sunday.

The procession on Monday, had fully ten thousand persons in it, and one hundred and fifty thousand spectators. Governor Bowie, was out in honor of the occasion, and ordered out all of the State military.

STATE CORRESPONDENCE.

Bowdon Collegiate Institute Commencement.

BOWDON, Ga., July 12, 1869.

Editor Constitution: DEAR SIR—The examination and commencement exercises were very satisfactory. Commencement sermon was preached on Sunday the 4th instant, by Rev. R. C. Smith, President of Oglethorpe College. The distinguished divine gave a discourse which fully sustained his reputation.

On Tuesday evening, was an exhibition in declamation. The first prize, a handsome gold medal, was awarded to S. J. Brown; the second prize, silver medal, to J. M. Stephenson.

Wednesday, we had orations from our two graduates, G. W. Colquitt, Carroll, Ga., and A. Miller, Spalding, Ga., upon whom, afterwards, were conferred diplomas.

The medals will be sent to Mr. Lawshe's, in a few days, to have the names of the recipients engraved upon them.

This college is the only one in Western Georgia, and we hope that the friends of education will sustain us.

The next term will begin August 19, 1869.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,

Georgia News.

The Savannah Republican contains the statement of Robert J. Wade, the Justice of the Peace before whom the affidavit was made, of Allen Williams, the witness in the Henry Miller case, upon which affidavit Gov. Bullock based the pardon of Henry Miller. Wade insists that Williams' first affidavit was fully understood by him, and says that he was intimidated into the second affidavit, which we published yesterday.

MARKET REPORT.—Red Wheat in active demand at $1 25 per bushel. White wheat held at $1 50 per bushel. Cotton 30 cents per pound. Corn $1 per bushel.—Cartersville Express.

We ask for information, if there is a female law firm in the town of Cartersville? If so, who are they?—Ibid.

The right of way of the Cartersville and Van Wert Railroad is still opposed and unsettled. It is a short-sighted policy that thus interferes with the progress of an enterprise like this, and it is hard that a whole community should suffer for a few individuals.

The Savannah News, in addition to the statement of Robert J. Wade, gives the card of Henry Miller's attorney, R. Wayne Russell, and the affidavit of Charles Holmes, to the effect that Allen Williams told the truth in his first affidavit.

We are only permitted to say that the news of the Albany and Brunswick railroad is indeed cheering. All may now take new hope.—Brunswick Appeal.

WEATHER—CROPS.—On Sunday last, at 3 o'clock, P. M., the thermometer stood 101 in the shade. Corn, too, in the dry districts, is failing very fast. Cotton is not suffering much as yet, but will very soon, unless it has rain. Up to ten days ago, we never saw a better prospect; but matters are changing very fast now. The survey of the extension of the Georgia Railroad, from this place to Clayton, was commenced yesterday morning.—Athens Watchman.

P. F. Lamar has resigned the sub-Collectorship of Revenue of the 4th District. Aaron F. Nunnally, of Monroe, will be his successor.

THE OPERA HOUSE.—My curiosity having previously been excited, having heard so much about Kimball's Opera House, its bad condition, Gov. Bullock's unauthorized advances to sustain the same, was the motive power that moved me thitherward. I soon found the object of my search, which I perambulated from basement to garret, and must say, as a mechanic, I could find but little fault. The windows are, perhaps, too small for a good ventilation. Some portions of the interior do not show good artistical skill, but upon the whole the building I would pronounce good and safe, and the projector should receive commendation, instead of abuse.

In perambulating Opera House a theater was standing in one of the halls, which I was examining, when one of Ham's descendants, with a friendly grin, accosted me: "Good morning, sah!" I replied, "Good morning! Do you stay in the Capitol?" "Yes, sah! was you ever hear before boss?" I replied "No." "Den whey does you live?" I answered, "In Columbus, Ga." At the mention of Columbus, Georgia, the darkey threw up his hands, his eyes seeming to start from his head, darted into a room, shut and locked the door, and left me alone in my glory.—*Atlanta, Cor. CLARKE AND LEWIS.

The First American Overland Explorers to the Pacific—The Pacific Railway The Realized dream of Centuries.

Clarke lived to an honored old age, and died in Missouri, Poor Lewis, in his young and promising manhood, grew restless in the quiet routine of civilized life, after his wild adventures, and finally fell by his own hand at a little wayside inn, among the mountains of Tennessee. Not even the place of his burial is known to history. A portrait of Lewis, slender, thoughtful, and tender-eyed; and of Clarke, swarthy, broad-shouldered and full-faced, both from the pencil of Charles Wilston Peale, hang in Independence Hall, Philadelphia; yet, how few Americans know even the names of these two men, who deserve such honorable prominence in our national history. Of the two great streams which unite to form the Columbia, the southern was named Lewis's River, but usage in Idaho and Oregon, through which it flows, has dropped that name, and it is now called the Snake. The northern branch is yet known as Clarke's Fork.

Once in their slow journey up the Missouri, Lewis and Clarke landed upon some bold ridges on the eastern bank for a conference with the Indians, and Lewis named the spot the Council Bluffs. At the foot of these commanding hills now stands the City of Council Bluffs, Iowa. Opposite, on the western bank, is Omaha, Nebraska. There, every day, throngs of passengers between New York and San Francisco, cross the great river up which these pioneer explorers toiled so painfully. There the enterprise which Jefferson's wisdom planned, and their courage executed, finds its culmination in our first railroad to the Pacific.

By what certain forces, by what unexpected but wise growth that has come, the world knows already. If has taken four centuries to realize the dream which Columbus—prematurely old from his projects—cherished of the gray-haired youth. European marine, twelve centuries have found our continent the great stumbling-block to the Orient; but now American enterprise has made it the world's highway to the Indies. The avenue is open. May the wisdom with which it is controlled be equal to the daring that conceived it, and the energy that built it. Then an immeasurable tide of travel and traffic will stream over it.—Westward to the Indies.—N. Y. Tribune.

GRANT'S POLICY.—With no startling announcements, with no professions of splendid policy, the Administration of General Grant endeavors quietly, persistently and honestly to perform each day, the duties which it each day finds before it, and trusts itself, without reserve, to the intelligence of the people, and acting in harmony with the other branches of the Government, the Executive Department of hopes to be able in the fullness of time to present the country restored in all its parts, credit re-established, industry reinvigorated through all the channels of national prosperity, with its honor untarnished at home and abroad.—Secretary Robeson.

The Reliable Contraband—His Invaluable Services Recounted—Touching Remarks on his Death.

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN—It is my painful duty to mar these festivities with the announcement of the death of one who was dear to us all—our tried and noble friend, the "Reliable Contraband." To the world at large this event will bring no sorrow, for the world never comprehended him, never knew him as we did, never had such cause to love him; but unto us the calamity brings unutterable anguish—for it heralds the loss of one whose great heart beat for us alone, whose tireless tongue vibrated in our interest only, whose fervent fancy wrought its miracles solely for our enrichment and renown.

In that time what did he not do for us? When marvels languished, and sensation dispatches grew tame, who was it that laid down the shovel and the hoe and came with healing on his wings? The Reliable Contraband. When armies fled in panic and dismay, and the great cause seemed lost beyond all hope of succor, who was it that turned the tide of war, and gave victory to the vanquished? The Reliable Contraband. When despair hung its shadows over the hearts of the people, and sorrow sat on every face, who was it that braved every danger to bring cheering and incomprehensible news from the front? The Reliable Contraband. Who took Richmond the first time? The Reliable Contraband. Who took it every time, until the last, and then felt the bitterness of hearing a nation applaud the man more, who took it once, than that greater man who had taken it six times before? The Reliable Contraband. When we needed a bloodless victory, to whom did we look to win it? The Reliable Contraband. When we needed news to make the people's bowels yearn, and their knotted and combined locks to stand on end, like the quills upon the fretful porcupine, to whom did we look to fetch it? The Reliable Contraband. When we needed any sort or description of news, upon any sort or description of subject, who was it that stood always ready to steal a horse and bring that news along? The Reliable Contraband.

My friends, he was the faithfullest vassal that ever fought, bled and died in the glorious ranks of journalism. Thunder and lightning never stopped him; the telegraph never overtook him; military secrecy never crippled his knowledge; stragetic feints never confused his judgment; cannon balls couldn't kill him; clairvoyance couldn't catch him. His information comprised all knowledge, possible and impossible; his capacity to make mighty statements, and so back them up as to make an inch of truth cover an acre of ground, without appearing to stretch or tear, was a thing that appalled even the most unimpressible with its awful grandeur.

The Reliable Contraband is no more! Born of the war, and a necessity of the war, and of the war only, he watched its progress, took notes of its successes and reverses, manufactured and recorded the most thrilling features of its daily history, and then when it died, his great mission was fulfilled, his occupation gone, and he died likewise.

No journalist here present can lay his hand on his heart and say he had not cause to love this faithful creature, over whose unsentient form we drop these unavailing tears—for no journalist among us all can lay his hand upon his heart and say he ever lied with such pathos, such unction, such exquisite symmetry, such sublimity of conception, and such felicity of execution, as when he dug it through and by the inspiration of this really gifted marvel of mendacity, the lamented Reliable Contraband. Peace to his ashes! Respectfully.

MARK TWAIN.

AN EDITOR'S LETTER

TO

DR. J. M. FOSTER,

Office in Empire Block,

ON A

CURE OF CATARRH.

FROM D. W. RAY, ESQ.,

Associate Editor of the Jackson Citizen, formerly Editor of the Rochester [N. Y.] Democrat, late of the Editorial corps of the Advertiser and Tribune, of Detroit, Michigan.

SIR:—Your favor of recent date, making inquiries as to the effect of your treatment in my case, was duly received. In reply to your questions, I would say that I was seriously afflicted with an aggravated Catarrh for a number of years past, discharging a thick, offensive, disagreeable mucous from my head almost constantly. At night, or when lying down, it was most annoying. When lying upon my back the thick mucous would drop down my throat, causing labored breathing and great distress and uneasiness, which rendered my nights restless and fatiguing. My throat was soon implicated in the general disease, and subjected to long and alarming attacks of soreness, which lasted for months together, during each returning winter. My general health was very much impaired, and the depression of spirits consequent upon my failing strength, while the undermining of my former vigor of health, caused me serious apprehensions. I tried remedy after remedy, "Catarrh Cures," and "Catarrh Snuffs," without number, but all to no purpose. My suffering grew worse, with every succeeding winter, until I began to yield all hope of being relieved. At last, the fame of your skill and success in treating such disorders reached me, and happily, I placed myself under your treatment.

With every sentiment that the deepest feelings of gratitude can inspire, I now frankly acknowledge my thanks for your successful treatment of my case. Indeed, the relief has surprised me, and in every way exceeded even my most sanguine hopes. Under your treatment, my suffering melted away as by a charm. My head is clear, my throat is well and natural, my general health sound and robust, my spirits buoyant, and in fact, Doctor, I was never better in my life. I must not forget to confess that you have had much to contend with, beside my disease alone, for my editorial duties made me, necessarily, neglect the regular attendance to the treatment that I felt it should receive, and yet, notwithstanding my negligence, your system of treatment has done for me what no medicine has heretofore done, and I cannot speak in terms of praise too high to recommend you to those who suffer from this most disgusting and loathsome disease.

While connected with the Rochester Democrat, I learned of many cures that you effected while there, in the winter of 1863-'64. I also know of many in this State, and can, consequently, speak of you thus fully from knowledge of other cases than my own.

In conclusion, let me say that should you desire to refer to me at any time, you may do so without hesitation, and I shall most cheerfully reply to any letters, deeming it a duty no less to yourself, than to those who are afflicted, and to whom I may be a guide in directing them to the same source from which I derived such substantial relief.

Hoping to hear of your continued success, I remain, sir, truly yours,

D. W. RAY.

From Wm. Peters, Esq., of Dayton, Ohio.

DR. FOSTER—Dear Sir—Noticing the fact that your patients report to you by letter the progress of their cases, under your most admirable system of treatment for deafness and catarrh, allow me to add my name to your list of references, for benefits received. I had been seriously afflicted with chronic Catarrh above eight years—suffering the most intense headache, with confusion of memory, while my head was completely stopped up every morning, and my mouth filled with a most disagreeable taste. Beside all this, my appetite and bowels were irregular, and my general health much disturbed and debilitated. It was in this sad condition, I placed myself under your valuable treatment only four weeks ago, and now I rejoice to say that my bowels and appetite are regular; I can breathe freely through my head; my headache has disappeared; my memory is improved, while my general health is so far restored that I can scarcely realize my remarkable change for the better, nor too strongly advise those who suffer to apply to you at once. Truly yours,

WILLIAM PETERS.

OUR JOB WORK.—THE CONSTITUTION Job Office, with its new and varied material, its new presses, new type and many kinds of paper and colored inks, is prepared to do work as cheap, as good, as stylish, and as quick as any other office in the South.

☞ The big Methodist camp meeting, at Round Lake, New York, still continues. The grounds cover forty acres. The encampment is laid out like a city. Tents, and all conveniences can be rented. There are, also, boarding tents. The encampment has a market, stable, bookstore, telegraph, express, etc.

The Expelled Members.

Our contemporary, the Macon Telegraph, usually so fair and liberal, has struck a vein of dogmatism in its zeal on the subject of the expelled members, that is hardly the right spirit to elicit truth, or convince opposition. We have formed a very high opinion of our confrere, and, therefore, we may be pardoned for saying that a little less of this one-sided and aggressive positivism would be better for all parties.

Our contemporary says, we have retraced our steps. We very readily accept all results due to a fair construction of our words, but we always shrink from a meaning we do not intend, and did not convey.

The article referred to by the Telegraph, was the one in which we gave the arguments on the other side of the question from that we held, and believed right. We gave these views as a matter of information, and not in any way endorsing them, or making them the ground of changing a position previously taken and still adhered to, and we little thought our liberality would expose us to misconstruction. We have never argued the subject, except from a legal standpoint. The policy of the matter we have intentionally ignored, because we did not think the time had come to argue it. We were against, making a gratuitous and unnecessary sacrifice of a principle, while there is a chance to preserve it, and we hoped, by making a manly and judicious stand for a legal right, that we might retain it, particularly when our extreme Radical oppressors contended for its truth; when we conceded them the substantial establishment of negro office holding, and when, if it could be done, it would be so much to the good of the State.

Now, there has been this difference between the Telegraph and THE CONSTITUTION on this theme, that the former has discussed the policy, the latter the legality only, of re-seating the expelled members.

We have believed that we were right, contended for it courteously and impartially, but we still held ... to both sides. ... all the ... our columns open ... our readers might have ... ught, and judge for themselves. We have reserved our opinion on the policy of the matter till the thing becomes practical, and that will be when the Legislature meets.

Nor do we feel any the less confidence in our legal point, because such jurists as Mr Stephens, Judge Fleming, Col. Akin, Judge Underwood, Mr. Lloyd, Gen. Lawton, Judge Harden, Mr. Hillyer, Col. Crawford, etc., agree with us.

The Chicago Republican, a very able and very Radical paper, has also endorsed our legal view, but says, in commenting upon extracts taken from both the Telegraph and CONSTITUTION, that we are not entitled to the benefit of the legal principle, because we are not fully in the Union. And later, the same paper commenting upon Mr. Stephens' letter, says that its reasoning is "logical, cogent, and irresistible," but that Georgia ought to be fully restored to the Union to have the benefit of the reasoning.

The Republican farther avows that the exclusion was not the result of hostility to the negro—a position wholly untrue. Now all of its queer reasoning is based on a belief in this view.

In the months between this and the meeting of the General Assembly, is there not time, and will there not be opportunity, to convince these people that we are acting from conviction and not prejudice? If we do this, is there not hope that they will forgo on our part a concession, illegal as they own, and which is to the injury of the State, particularly when the principle is admitted and obeyed? It is worth an effort.

Even the Republican has modified its tone. In its first article, it avers that Georgia's position "cannot secure national restoration" without recalling the expelled negroes; in its second, it merely says, "it is likely Georgia will be called on to reverse her action."

A great change is going on North about the South. By avoiding acrimony, by acting with reason and discretion, we can do much. There is an improving tide in our favor, and it may bear us to better days without farther oppression.

These legal principles that our contemporary so contemptuously pronounces quiddities and political figments are the constitutional safeguards of important rights, and every one torn away from our system of laws is an injury to our liberties. We are for giving up no more of them than is absolutely necessary.

We did, and do now, advise our legislators to withhold the expression of their opinions, thus far as a matter of policy, and this without retracing a step we have taken. Four months' careful study, will enable them to decide better than now, with the issue hastily sprung.

The Tribune's Letter.

Some days since, we stated that the traveling correspondent of the New York Tribune, had written a letter from Atlanta.

Speaking of manufacturing, in this country, he says, that to be done profitably, it requires the establishment of agencies at valuable points of distribution. New York has been the principal point hereto fore. He says:

Chicago is becoming ... in time, North ... such a point, and, also ... ork, and perhaps Atlanta may ... some such, but at present large buyers will not go thither. One might think that a remedy could be found; but when Philadelphia, the largest manufacturing city in the country, and Boston, with all its skill and capital as well as the whole of New-England, are obliged also to have agencies in New York, less powers need not expect to emancipate themselves.

This correspondent makes an effort to be fair, but he must have gone to bad sources for his information. One would naturally infer that he trotted directly to the Slander Mill, and stuck assiduously to it, and his letter goes far to strengthen such a surmise. A little half-patronizing grain of palliation, woven in semi-occasionally does not relieve his effusion from its decided Radical squint. For instance, in one place he says, with an immense flourish of impartiality:

"To tell the truth, I had seen some few Northern men holding office, whose morals were not what they should have been."

In another place, he speaks of having been treated with "ill-concealed disdain," but he super-generously adds:

"Still I felt no resentment, for I could not help seeing that great misfortunes weighed them down; not only had they lost, what to them were great fortunes, but their dearest friends."

The national gratitude is due him for this charity. But after a while his malice crops out without paltry attempt at disguise. He warms up as he gets into the subject. The alleged indignities increase.

He wanted to visit a planter's farm: the planter would talk nothing but politics, and acted strangely. He thus naively comments upon this incident, without stating where he got his facts:

I thought his conduct singular in the extreme, and I believe he had good reason; but I doubted whether I should find out what it was; still I did, and it was that he had a colored woman for his wife, with a plenty of mulatto boys and girls, and he did not want me there over night. I could mention his name, for it is well known, but I forbear; for, knowing what it is to be rasped, I have no taste for being the rasp.

To give an idea of his method, however, we quote the following long extract, clearly showing how thoroughly he searched for truth, how well he sifted his facts, and above all, exhibiting a degree of simplicity that would not have discredited a six-year old boy.

I was going westward from Augusta, without the least idea that I was approaching the region where so many outrages were reported to have been committed, for in traveling everything appears so different from what one had figured, and there was nothing to suggest anything but peace and quiet. All at once I received the following statement: A company of 40 freedmen arrived at a station, which I have noted, but which I need not name—last Christmas, and there they remained during a greater part of the winter, in a most destitute condition. They had raised 75 bales of cotton, but at the close of the year had been turned off the place without receiving any part of the crop. Of a locality some five miles distant, I was told that a band of Ku-Klux, consisting of planters, merchants, and leading men, was organized, and that in some cases where colored men refused to work for nothing, they came to them in the night, representing themselves to be the ghosts of Confederate soldiers, and then stripping and flogging them, ordered them back to the places they had left, and to go to work, or they would be flogged again. In another place, one of the expelled members of the Legislature stated that colored women were flogged for the same cause; and I may say that they received one hundred lashes, though I may mistake in this, for I think a larger number was mentioned, and when I asked if such a whipping was not dreadfully severe, my informant shrugged his shoulders, and said they had been used to it; and, if I mistake not again, he said that in the old days one thousand lashes had been given. A young man, well dressed, and as black as there is any necessity for, said that the young fellows did not dare to pay their addresses "to respectable ladies any more," for, if they did, they were likely to be shot by white men, and they had to take up with bad characters. It seemed that he had been to see a girl where he used to live, and had been obliged to leave because she had a "prior engagement" of the kind hinted at. This was in the region where the Ku-Klux were reported strongest.

He would have conferred a very considerable favor by communicating the name of the gentleman mentioned in the following paragraph. It will be remembered some time back, that an anonymous fellow, signing himself "Radical," gave the Macon Telegraph some names of scared refugees, every one of whom, under his own sanction, denied the impeachment, save some few bastardy cases. We will take great pleasure in giving this large-landed refugee the benefit of publicity in THE CONSTITUTION:

Afterward, I was told by one of the few steadfast Union men of Georgia, and who, although a member of the Legislature and a large landed proprietor, who before the war owned many slaves, and who now is living at Atlanta as a refugee, not daring to return to his plantation, that when the war closed, and the situation was accepted, many of the planters agreed to give the freedmen higher wages; then they brought on a few goods, for which they charged five prices, and whisky, for which they charged ten prices, with the intention, as cotton was high, to make a few crops, get rich, and then retire, letting the thing drop; but as it turned out, the negroes got discouraged at being swindled, and then, as it was expressed, Providence, seeing their design brought unfavorable seasons, and they got swindled themselves.

He was told that Mr. Adkins, was a most worthy man, with thirty thousand acres of land; that it was very easy to charge good Union men with insulting ladies, and that rape was a luscious dish to make them fond of; that of all the Union victims, he could not hear of a single instance of one being brought to punishment, and he finally winds up on this theme with this remarkable experience:

In only one place was I threatened with violence, but I escaped without being actually assaulted. This is hardly worthy of mention, for everywhere else I felt entirely safe, and I was constantly told that a Northern man can travel anywhere in the South and be unmolested; but this seems to be on the condition that he makes no attempt at disturbance by talking against the old masters to the blacks, for if he does, he will soon get into trouble. This I am willing to believe, for when I talked with the freedmen, I saw I was well watched. Hence it was that I visited the expelled members of the Legislature in the night.

At Sparta, he interviewed Mr. Toombs, who, he says, talked to him in this style:

He said that government had overthrown all the old landmarks preparatory to the establishment of a despotism, and now ... one in Georgia, who is an honest ... to hold an office. He meant by ... can the Rebels were honest or ..., that only ... and, being disqualified ... nt to hold office, they could not ... ed by act of Congress, they could not ... take the oath required without falsifying themselves. * * *

All that was required was that the landed proprietors and the negroes should be left alone to themselves, and there would be no trouble; but so long as Northern interference existed peace ... would be impossible. * * * * * * *

He instructed Mr. ... Toombs about cotton raising, to which ... ly replied ... ch that gentleman gratefully ... e said I knew nothing about it, nor had there ever been any one in the Tribune office who knew as much as a smart ten-year-old boy ought to know, and he had told Mr. Greeley so to his face.

He then said there were no white laborers in the country, drawing from Mr. Toombs this instructive observation.

"He said that this showed how small were my powers of observation, and how little fitted I was to do the work assigned me."

He thus winds up with Mr. Toombs:

From this, Mr. Toombs branched off on the superiority of the white men, and of the insults that men deliberately put upon the South proper, by placing brutal and ignorant black men in office, and to the remark that as the freedmen were allowed to vote, it was natural and unavoidable that some of their number should be elected; he said this business would settle itself in time, for when they got the power, the negro laws would be repealed, that the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments would be declared unconstitutional, and that Government could enforce them only by the bayonet. He had gone into the war in good faith, and he was willing to try it again. Such was the substance of the interview, and the little crowd was evidently pleased to hear him give me "fits."

But we have not patience to notice more of the tissue of stale slanders, insidious enmity, grossly unfair misstatements, ingeniously barbed venom and simulated impartialities of the hypocritical news vagrant.

It may be that with a cruel, senseless pleasantry, some of our wags may have practiced on his willing credulity; if so, the more shame to them, for personal whims trifling with the greatest interests of the country. But the lengthy communication shows a spirit unconcealably inimical to our section and people.

As Mr. Stephens said in one of his great speeches, prejudice is the greatest foe to truth. This correspondent of The Times has come among us full of the bitter, bad notions concerning us, that that paper has been showing so long. He has seen everything through his prejudiced vision—he has gone to wrong sources for information, he has taken for truths the jaundiced and mendacious mistatements of those who have every reason to vilify us, he has not stopped long enough to acquaint himself with our real condition, and under the inspiration of old set opinions, he has believed nothing in our favor and everything against us, and painted a picture as untrue, unjust and erroneous as possibly could be.

☞ The State Journal wants to know "how Senter stands now?" Why, on his feet like a man, sir. We will not ask how Stokes lies. Everybody knows that he lies in any position—sitting, standing, walking or running a horse race.—Knoxville Press.

☞ Let it be known to those who vaunt or envy the manufacturing supremacy of England, that ... the entire population are women condemned to physical labor outside the proper province of the female sex! God forbid that America's industrial prosperity should be purchased at this fearful cost of the purity and chastity of her women!

DR. J. A. HUNTER,

From his Patients in Atlanta.

We have much pleasure in expressing our high appreciation of Dr. J. A. Hunter's skill and ability, as a physician in diseases of the Head, Throat, Lungs and Heart, and consider his methods of treating these diseases superior to the means ordinarily employed.

We speak from personal knowledge and experience, and believe his efforts here will supply a want long felt in this part of the country, and recommend those who may require his services to give him a call.

COMPLIMENTARY TO DR. HUNTER.—We publish a card in another column, complimenty to Dr. Hunter, signed by several of our best citizens, who are under his professional care for affections of the Throat, Lungs or Heart.

Dr. Hunter comes from New Orleans, where he has a large practice during the winter months, and has been in our midst only about one month, yet, within that brief space of time he has established an enviable reputation, both as a physician and gentleman, and we believe deserves the confidence of the public. He has undoubtedly, by improved methods of treatment, conjoined to a long and active experience, succeeded in successfully combating a class of diseases hitherto believed to be incurable, and we trust that those who avail themselves of his professional services during the remainder of his stay here, will experience equally happy results.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

DR. HUNTER

Can be consulted at the National Hotel, Atlanta, upon all diseases of the Head, Throat, Lungs and Heart.

As the remaining period of Dr. Hunter's stay here is limited, those who desire to consult him, should do so at once.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE undersigned offers for sale 3,000 acres of land, known as the Tennille Farm. This fine cotton farm lies near the centre of the 4th district of Calhoun county, within a short distance of the depot for the Bainbridge, Cuthbert and Columbus Railroad, 20 miles south of Cuthbert. The lands are first quality, oak and hickory, except two lots, which are first quality pine. None of the pine lands are cleared, but well timbered. There are 1,500 acres cleared and in a high state of cultivation. This farm is well watered, having branches in every field, which abound in cane sufficient to winter 500 head of cattle. Two settlements on the farm. Improvements fair. Price reasonable. Terms easy. Titles to every lot indisputable. I live near the farm, and will take pleasure in showing the farm, or answer any questions by letter.

Whereas, official information has been received at this Department, that a murder was committed in the county of Early, on the 26th day of June, 1869, upon the body of John Colb... (freedman,) by Bob Hart alias Bob Sheha, alias Bob Battle, (freedman), and that said Hart, alias Sheha, alias Battle has fled from justice:

I have thought proper, therefore, to issue this, my proclamation, hereby offering a reward of Two Hundred Dollars for the apprehension and delivery of the said Hart, alias Sheha, alias Battle, with evidence sufficient to convict, to the Sheriff of said county and State.

And I do moreover charge and require all officers in this State, civil and military, to be vigilant in endeavoring to apprehend the said Hart, alias Sheha, alias Battle, in order that he may be brought to trial for the offense with which he stands charged.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at the Capitol in Atlanta, this 14th day of July, in the year of our Lord, Eighteen Hundred and Sixty-Nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the Ninety-Fourth.

RUFUS B. BULLOCK, Governor.

By the Governor:

DAVID G. COTTING, Secretary of State.

DESCRIPTION.

The said Hart, alias Sheha, alias Battle, is about 26 years of age, 5 feet 11 inches high, spare built, quite black, bad countenance, rather quick spoken, and gives a sort of contemptuous toss of the head when displeased; when pleased, shows his upper teeth, not by a broad smile, but by an elevation of the upper lip, higher at the outer edges than the middle. He is best known in the community as Bob Sheha.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA:::::::JULY 16.

Supreme Court—Evening Session.

Reported Expressly for The Constitution.

THURSDAY, July 15, 1869.

1. C. H. Chandler vs. M. J. Johnson, et al., assumpsit from Fulton, was argued.

Hammond & Mynatt for plaintiff in error.

L. E. Bleckley for defendants in error.

2. Argument was begun in Doe ex dem. H. & J. Miller vs. Roe, cas. ef. for and J. N. Sweetenham, from DeKalb county.

Hill & Candler, L. E. Bleckley for defendant in error.

Pending the opening argument by Mr. Winn, court adjourned till 10 o'clock A. M. to-morrow.

THE CONVENTION OF SUPERIOR COURT JUDGES.—The Convention yesterday evening, adopted several new and important common law rules. Judges Pope and Schley, were added to the committee on style and arrangement. Judges Schley, Alexander, and Harrell were appointed to suggest what new circuits in Southern and Southwestern Georgia, and what alterations in existing circuits are needed, and report to the Convention. Judge Harrell, the President, presides with great dignity and impartiality. Judge Robinson, the Vice President, is a gentleman of sound practical sense and an ornament to the profession. We are under many obligations to the courteous and efficient Secretary, Z. D. Harrison, for many favors and attentions. The Convention adjourned until 12 M. to-day.

RAID ON BROOKLYN.—The Internal Revenue officers made a raid on Brooklyn, yesterday, and seized a large lot of cigars, in boxes, unstamped.

"MANY SUFFERERS.—A communication, signed "Many Sufferers," calls attention to the condition of a bridge on Washington street, near Fulton. As no responsible name accompanied it, we can not publish it.

NOTICE.—The officers of the Atlanta Bible Society, are requested to meet at the office of Judge D. W. Hammond, on Whitehall street, at 9 o'clock, A. M., Monday, July 19th.

STONEWALL JACKSON INSTITUTE.—This celebrated institution of learning, at Abingdon, Va., makes an announcement to our readers, through our advertising columns. We take great pleasure in recommending an institution of so much merit. For the thorough training of girls, in solid learning and accomplishments, it has no superior.

A BANKRUPT GOVERNOR.—Several weeks ago, a note drawn by T. G. Campbell, Sr. for $250, and endorsed by Rufus B. Bullock, was hawked about the streets, and could not be disposed of at ten cents on the dollar, until it was endorsed by a responsible party. The note was given to pay Campbell for services in Washington, in trying to get Georgia out of the Union.

PERSONAL.—Rev. J. P. Duncan, of Dalton, Rev. Lovie Pierce, of Columbus, and Rev. A. Means, of Oxford, were the guests of the United States Hotel, yesterday.

It is rumored that Senator John T. Burn, will remove from Rome to this city taking up his residence on Washington street.

COMMENDABLE.—We know of a Georgia Senator, who has eschewed politics, and gone to "toting his own skillet," by working on a railroad. Bully for him!

ON DIT.—That the incorruptible Treasurer of the State Road, W. W. Clayton, is to be removed to allow Foster Blodgett to take the position, and that Hulbert, Walker and Flynn will have to walk the plank." Gov. Bullock knows he is "playing his last card," and he wants to play it strong. The banks being closed against him, why, he turns his attention to the State Road. If a protest could be of any avail, we would heartily enter it against such a policy. The prospect is that the State will lose even the $25,000 per month.

AUGUSTA, GA., July 14, 1869.

Dear Local: The weather here is hot, oh! so hot. No chance to sleep at night, notwithstanding on Monday last, a good rain fell. It rained at the same time in Macon, and nearly all the way from Macon here. The farmers say they can't wish for better prospects, if the rains only continue. A few isolated sections are suffering very much, but generally there has been rain enough all over middle and Southwestern Georgia. Atlanta, when I left on Sunday, was much the driest place I have seen or heard of. Augusta is quiet. No improvements going on except the round house of the Georgia Railroad, one school house, and the reshingling of the lower market. Everybody is trying to keep cool, indeed, you hear but little else talked of. Quite a number of the Augusta citizens speak of going to the Virginia Springs, by the Tennessee, Georgia and Virginia line. Some are going up on the Western and Atlantic Railroad to stop over at Marietta, Cartersville, or some of the other way stations on that Road. Augusta can boast of good hotels. The Globe, kept by Hewitt & Son, can't be excelled. Attentive waiters and obliging clerks go very far to assist Hewitt, who is always looking out how to make his guests the most agreeable. The traveler can't be hurt by stopping at the Globe—nor the planter.

DON CÆSAR DE BAZAN.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.—The worthy and efficient Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, at the last meeting of Council, submitted his annual report, a synopsis of which we give. He states that the apparatus of the Department is in excellent condition, and with the new hose supplied by the Council to them, will be second to no Fire Department North or South. He calls the attention of Council to the want of water in the business portions of the city. The cisterns are inadequate to supply the water necessary in case of a large fire. Some system of fire alarm should be adopted, indicating by alarm bells, the locality of fires. Chief Engineer Thomas Haney, thinks the annual parade on the third of May, was a credit to the city and an honor to the Department, and in behalf of the Department returned thanks to the Council for their liberal donation and to the citizens for their contributions. He pays a well merited compliment to his Assistants, E. Butler and W. G. Knox, and to the Fire Wardens, John H. Flynn and Gen. G. D. Anderson, Fire Wardens.

During the year there were twelve fires, involving a loss of $100,353 88. Of this amount $40,600 was insured. The loss over insurance was $54,653 88.

From the following list it will be seen that a large portion of the fires was the work of incendiaries.

The first fire was on the 8th of September 1868, the residence of B. D. Smith, on Pryor street. Damage slight. Caused by incendiary.

September 20th—the residence of Mrs. Williams, on Luckie street. Accidental. Insured for $200. Loss $300.

November 4th—Store, corner of Peachtree and Walton streets, property of W. Markham. Insured for $500. Loss $108.88. Occupied by Patton & Co., Dry Goods. Incendiary. Insured for $13,000; loss not settled.

November 8th—Kitchen on Rawson street, property of E. Andrews. Accidental. Insured for $500; loss $300.

December 10th.—Brick kitchen of E. R. Sasseen. Occupied by Mrs. Hoyle. Incendiary. Insured for $3,500. Loss $1,500.

December 24th—Dwelling of W. Hetzel, on Peachtree, near Cain. Accidental. Loss $7,000. No insurance.

February 24th, 1869—Store of W. P. Pattillo, on Whitehall. Insured for $2,500. Loss $2,800. Occupied by A. De Anthony. Goods insured, $14,000. Loss not settled. Incendiary. Same date, store adjoining, property of Mrs. Camp. Insured $2,500. Loss $2,800. Occupied by Fleishel & Bro., dry goods. Goods insured, $8,000. Loss $12,000.

March 21st—Store and dwelling, on Marietta street, near Rolling Mill, owned and occupied by H. Rich. Dwelling insured $1,000. Loss $1,545. Goods insured, $1,000. Loss not settled. Incendiary.

April 28th—Frame store on Peachtree and Forsyth streets, owned by F. P. Rice. Insured, $300. Loss $200. Incendiary.

May 3d—Frame buildings and livery stable, corner of Broad and Walton streets. Loss not estimated. No insurance. Incendiary.

May 28th—Davis' Theater, on Broad street, property of L. H. Davis. No insurance. Loss $40,000. Occupied by L. A. Knight, commission merchant. Insured $3,000. Loss not settled. A. J. McAllister, saloon. No insurance. Loss $1,200. Brick dwelling adjoining, on Forsyth street, belonging to the estate of Gardner. No insurance. Loss $6,500. Occupied by Mrs. White, boarding house. No insurance; furniture removed. Incendiary. Fire originated in the store of L. A. Knight. Aggregate loss $72,253 88. Estimated loss, not settled, $32,000. Aggregate insurance 49,600. Loss over insurance $54,653 88.

☞ Co-operative housekeeping, as explained in the Atlantic Monthly, is soon to be undertaken in Cambridge, Mass., where Mrs. Peirce, who wrote the articles, resides. A considerable number of ladies, among whom are Mrs. Peirce and Mrs. Horace Mann, have agreed to try the experiment of a store room, bakery, kitchen, and laundry on the co-operative principle.

☞ The rapidity with which Plantation Bitters have become a household necessity throughout the civilized nations, is without a parallel in the history of the world. Over five million bottles were sold in twelve months, and the demand is daily increasing. Rich and poor, young and old, ladies, physicians and clergymen, find that it revives drooping spirits, lends strength to the system, vigor to the mind, and is exhausted nature's great restorer. It is compounded of the choicest roots and herbs, the celebrated Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, etc., all preserved in pure St. Croix Rum. It is sold by all respectable dealers in every town, parish, village and hamlet through North and South America, Europe, and all the Islands of the Ocean.

Our Market To-Day.

Our market to-day presented but few changes from our report of yesterday.

Grain Market.

Corn, still remains scarce; demand in excess of receipts. We learn that corn is scarce in Tennessee, and that there is little likelihood for a reduction in prices soon. Corn meets with ready sale, at the depot, at 1 25. Wheat—stock light, small receipts. Finds ready sale at full prices. 1 40a1 50, for good red and white. Choice lots might bring higher figures. Oats—The market is still bare. Would bring 75a80 cents, readily. Barley will command 1 50 per bushel for a good article.

Bacon Market.

From the latest accounts received from the West, bacon has advanced, but has not, as yet, affected this market. Clear sides, firm at 19½; shoulders 15a15½; plain hams 18; sugar cured hams 20a21½. Lard, tierces 20 a21½; keg 22.

Grocery Market.

No change from yesterday's quotations. Sugar—A standard, 17c; B, 16¾ to 17c; extra C, 16 1-2c; yellow C, 16c. Rio Coffee, 22 to 23 1-2c. Molasses—barrels, 55c; tierces 53c; New Orleans syrup reboiled, 90c. Candles—Adamantine, 17 1-2 to 18c; tallow, 12 to 15c. Soap, 7 to 9c. Rice, 9 to 9 1-2c, tierce. Corn meal, 1 35, and in great demand.

Lime and Cement.

Cherokee Lime, 50c per bushel; Chewackla, 55c per bushel.

Country Produce.

The fine shower of rain, to-day, had a very inspiriting effect upon the people. In a few days vegetation will show its healthy influence, and prices will rule lower. Eggs 10a12c per dozen; Butter 30a35c per lb.; Chickens, half-grown, 25.

Drugs and Dyes.

Bi-carb soda 8a8½ per pound. Blue stone 18a20. Copperas 4a5. Epsom salts 6½a8. Madder 22a25. Opium 17 00a19 00 per pound.

Oils and Paints.

Linseed oil, raw, per gal. 1 35a1 40; do., boiled, 1 40a1 45. White Lead, per lb., 11¼a15; white lead, pure, 16½.

Flour Market.

We quote to-day as follows: New family 9 00; superfine 6 00, per bbl.; old flour at prices slightly under the above quotations.

Furniture Market.

Our furniture dealers have large stocks, and are offering superior inducements to purchasers.

Local Freights.

The following were the local receipts received at the State depot to-day: 3 car loads of corn, two of wheat, one of lumber, one of oats, one flour, and seven mixed.

Telegraphic Markets.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Cotton quiet, unchanged; sales 1,100 bales at 34¼a34½. Flour unchanged. Wheat easier; No. 2 spring 1 54; red Western 1 50; amber Southern, new, 1 55a1 65. Corn firmer, 92 a93. SPOONS ON ULYSSES.

Tired of Calling Drunk, Sick.

Ben. Butler is "tired of calling drunk, sick." It happened in this wise: When Gen. Grant was in Boston, to attend the Jubilee, it was announced that he would review the military on the Common, under the command of Ben. Butler, at a certain hour. They waited four hours for him, but he came not. The Bangor Democrat says:

"Butler was there, surrounded by such notable officers as Howard, Chamberlain, etc., sweating and swearing in the saddle, and rolling that baleful eye with the venom of an anaconda; while Grant was at the St. James, munching sardines, puffing Havanas, and sucking Heidsick through a porcelain quill. The affair was either a deliberate insult, and so it regarded by Grant, or else his deliberations over his "lemonade" had unfitted him for active duties. Which of the two is the fact may be inferred by a remark of the impetuous Butler: "I am tired of calling drunk, sick."

☞ Sir Edward Landseer's picture of the "Eagles attacking the Swan's Nest" has been sold for the enormous sum of £7,000. It is said that the artist refused an offer of £4,000 from a nobleman who sent him afterward a blank check which Landseer filled up to the above amount.

MUTUAL FIRE AND LIFE

Insurance Company,

MACON, GA.

Authorized Capital:::::$500,000!

Certificate of authority issued by the Comptroller General, under Act of March 19, 1869, requiring one hundred thousand dollars capital.

COL. W. J. LAWTON, President. J. C. McBURNEY, Vice Pres't.

E. J. LIGHTFOOT, Secretary.

This Company is now prepared to issue all classes of Policies. In the Life Department it offers more liberal terms than any other company in this country.

It asks particular attention to the following prominent features:

1. It is a Home Company—a Southern Company, owned and managed by as able financiers as our State can produce.

2. All its policies are non-forfeiting, and so long as one dollar of premiums or dividends remain in the hands of the Company unearned, so long is the policy kept alive.

3. Its policies are incontestible, except for fraud.

4. Its policies contain no restrictions of either travel or occupation, and world-wide in its fullest sense.

5. As low a rate of premium as due regard to safety will permit, and will compare with any other Mutual Company.

6. Thirty days grace allowed upon payment of renewal premiums, and the policy held good for that time.

7. One-half the premium remains a perpetual loan on the policy, at legal interest, which loan it is confidently expected will be extinguished by dividends.

8. It is a Mutual Company; all the profits equitably divided among its policy holders.

9. Dividends declared annually, upon the contribution plan.

10. Females insured at same rates as males.

Feeling assured that the above features must commend this Company to the favorable consideration of the public, we respectfully ask an investigation of its merits, by those contemplating insurance, satisfied that we offer greater inducements than any other Company now extant.

Able Solicitors and local Agents wanted all over the country. Address,

Vice President, Macon, Ga.

A Proclamation.

GEORGIA:

By Rufus B. Bullock, Governor of said State.

Whereas, official information has been received at this Department, that George W. Jordan and Samuel P. Crawford, are charged with having committed the offense of "Assault with intent to murder," upon the persons of two sons of Dr. C. M. Griffin, in the county of Bartow, and that the said Jordan and Crawford have fled from justice:

I have thought proper, therefore, to issue this, my proclamation, hereby offering a reward of Five Hundred Dollars for the apprehension and delivery of the said Jordan and Crawford, with proof sufficient to convict, to the Sheriff of said county and State.

And I do moreover charge and require all officers in this State, civil and military, to be vigilant in endeavoring to apprehend the said Jordan and Crawford, in order that they may be brought to trial for the offense with which they stand charged.

Given under my hand and the great Seal of the State, at the Capitol in Atlanta, this 12th day of July, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the Ninety-Fourth.

RUFUS B. BULLOCK, Governor.

By the Governor:
DAVID G. COTTING, Secretary of State.

DESCRIPTION.

George W. Jordan is about six feet high, spare made, angular face, rather dark complexion, and quick spoken and intelligent; is about 25 or 26 years of age, married a lady named Eason, who is now at her mother's, in Cobb county, somewhere between Marietta and Roswell Factory.

Samuel P. Crawford is about 25 years old, about six feet high, rather fair complexion, has an old pistol shot wound on the right side of his face, which has destroyed the sight of the right eye. Has a hissing, effeminate manner of speaking, and is not married.

DR. JOHN BULL'S Great Remedies.

DR. JOHN BULL,

Discoverer and Proprietor of the Celebrated

Tonic Syrup,

Smith's Tri

FOR THE CURE OF

Chills and Fever.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southwestern country to testify to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case where certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, take a dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS, will be sufficient.

Dr. JOHN BULL'S

Bull's Worm Destroyer.

To my United States and World-wide Readers.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is over and one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER:

VILLANOW, Walker Co., Ga., June 29, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that, I know of no remedy recommended by the Medical Profession that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary, they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine direct from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line M. D.'s, but I see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more sagacious than myself may have detected its effects first, and secured the copyright to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood this country. Should your Worm Destroyer prove to be what you represent it to be, it cures all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms. I am, sir, most respectfully,

CLEMENT M. D.

Bull's Sarsaparilla

A Good Reason for the Captain's Faith.

READ THE CAPTAIN'S LETTER AND THE LETTER FROM HIS MOTHER.

BENTON BARRACKS, Mo., April 30 1866

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case.

I was wounded two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not set up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in anything else. I wish that that is genuine. I take a great deal of it, and obtain it from Capt. U. P. JOHNSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 30, 1865, by Mrs. Jennie Johnson, mother of Captain Johnson:

DR. BULL—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. P. Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died leaving the above C. P. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age he had a chronic diarrhœa and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. It cured him. I have for two years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio and Iowa, for scrofula, fever sores and general debility. The best success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurious article, hence his writing to you for it. His wounds were terrible, but I believe he will recover.

Respectfully, JENNIE JOHNSON

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA :::::::: JULY 15

Morning in Summer.

There is a parting in night's murky veil,
A soft, pale light is in the eastern sky;
It steals along the ocean tremblingly,
Like distant music wafted on the gale.
Stars, one by one, grow faint and disappear,
Like waning tapers, when the feast is o'er;
While, gilt with rolling mists, the mountains hoar
High o'er the dwelling glens their tops uprear.
There is a gentle rustling in the grove.
Though winds be hushed, it is the stir of wings,
And now the skylark from the nest upsprings,
Thrilling in accents clear, her song of love;
And now, Heaven's gate in golden splendor burns—
Joy to the earth, the glorious sun returns!

City and Suburban Affairs.

Supreme Court—Morning Session.

Reported Expressly for The Constitution.]

THURSDAY, July 15, 1869.

No. 7, Geo. T. Connell vs. Thos. Vaughn, and No. 8, John Bonner vs. J. B. Martin, each from Carroll, were argued together. Austin & Reese, represented by L. J. Glenn, for plaintiffs in error. B. Oliver and Merrills, for defendant in error.

No. 6, Reid & Bro., vs. A. E. Spencer, from Troup, was dismissed on motion of Attorney for defendant in error. B. H. Hill and B. H. Bigham, for plaintiff in error. Ferrell, and Hammond & Bro., for defendant in error.

Court then adjourned until the usual hour.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.—We are indebted to the firm of Francis W. Crane & Co., Provision Brokers, of St Louis, for their Weekly Market Report for July 10th, and would be pleased to receive it regularly. In our own columns will be found a full and correct report of the Atlanta market. Accompanying the report is the following letter:

ST. LOUIS, July 10, 1869.

To the Editors of the Constitution:

SIRS—From some remarks we have noticed of yours on a "telegram" of ours on corn, we judge you are interested in getting reliable commercial intelligence. We make a specialty of publishing each Saturday, after change hours, a circular on the "hog product," which we take much pains to have reliable in every particular. Please find to-day's issue enclosed. Our papers here, and many in other cities and towns throughout the country, are glad to receive it, and generally publish it. If it is any object to you, or would be of value to you, we shall take pleasure in mailing to you each Saturday. Respectfully,

FRANCIS W. CRANE & CO.

RAIN.—At one o'clock to-day, Atlanta and its vicinity, was visited with a heavy fall of rain—the first in many weeks. Every heart should feel deeply grateful, for the great blessing bestowed by an All-Wise Providence on us. The manifold benefits resulting to us from such a glorious shower are incalculable. Vegetable and animal life—the air we breathe, the earth we tread—will be invigorated and purified by it.

CONVENTION OF SUPERIOR COURT JUDGES.—The Convention met at nine o'clock, this morning, President Harrell in the Chair. The common law rules having been disposed of, the equity rules were taken up, and rules 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 18, and 20, expunged. Rules 9, 11, 16, 17, 19, and 21, were adopted. After adopting some new common law rules, and discussing others, the Convention adjourned to 4 o'clock, P. M.

Sambo, the Gentleman—A Gentlemanly Actor Receives Fifteen Cents from a Negro.

As Mr. Stuart Robson, the popular comedian, was approaching the corner of Rollins and Washington streets on yesterday morning, he encountered a pompous-looking darkey, who was in charge of a comfortable family carriage and a span of sleek-looking horses. As Mr. Robson neared him, the newly made American citizen accosted him with:

"Young man!"

"Sir to you," said Robson, pulling off his hat with mock politeness.

"If you are not in a hurry, would you oblige me by dropping into that store across the way and bring me a plug of tobacco? I can't leave my horses, and I'll do the same for you some day."

For a moment the comedian's dignity seemed staggered, but he quickly recovered himself, and with an ill-concealed smile playing on his comic countenance, replied:

"With pleasure, sir."

The coachman handed him a twenty-five cent note, which was received in the most respectful manner by Robson, who proceeded directly to the store indicated, and in a few moments returned with the tobacco in one hand, and the fifteen cents change in the other, which he held out to the party who had given him so striking a proof of his confidence.

Mr. Darkey received the tobacco with a slight "Thank you," and waving his hand with the most self-satisfied importance, said:

"You can keep the change, young man!"

Mr. Robson's face has expressed many comical emotions in his professional capacity, but we doubt if he ever looked so quizzically ludicrous as when, fully realizing the absurdity of his position—he pocketed the change and walked briskly away.—Correspondence Boston Courier.

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, Born to Luck.—The Collector of Customs of the port of Georgetown, a few days ago, received a magnificent collection of solid silver articles, intended as presents for President Grant, General Sherman, ex-Secretary Seward, and Mrs. ex-President Lincoln. They were sent to this country from Mexico by Saboo Iturbide, in behalf of a modest Mexican who refused to have his name made known, and said that, in his transport of delight at the abolition of slavery, he was prompted to prepare this little token for some of the principal actors in that good work. President Grant receives a silver coffee set of thirty-six pieces and some dressed leopard skins. Gen. Sherman an egg-boiler and holder. For ex-Secretary Seward there is an ink-stand and pen-holder, most ingeniously wrought, besides a call-bell; and Mrs. Lincoln's portion of the lot was a heavy card-basket. All these articles are of solid silver, without any dearth of metal, and of most beautiful finish and workmanship. President Grant's and Gen. Sherman's portions were delivered yesterday. Some idea of their value may be formed from the fact that the duty on President Grant's lot was $748; on Gen. Sherman's $164.—Courier-Journal.

A COOL ELOPEMENT.—A cool elopement took place at Barr Oak, a short time since. A young woman, aged about 23 years, who had been married about five years, deliberately went off with her husband's youngest brother. There was no secrecy about it. It was done with the full knowledge of the injured husband. His wife packed up her bed and clothing in his presence which were placed in a wagon, together with herself and child by her paramour, when they were driven about a mile to the residence of the husband's father, the husband and another brother following on foot. Here the whole matter, which had been contemplated for over a year, was freely and deliberately talked over, the woman declaring that she never loved her husband as well as she did his youngest brother. The young man then coolly helped his brother's wife and child into the wagon, and getting in himself, they left for parts unknown.

THE BLUE RIDGE ROAD.—The contract for finishing the Blue Ridge Road has been given to Messrs. Creswell, Patterson & Sellers, of Harrisburg, Pa. They intend employing immediately a regularly organized company of tunnelers, whose headquarters are at St. Louis, and who have done a great deal of work on the Pacific Railroad. These they will bring down and set to work in August, two years from which time they are to have the road in running order, and they are to take first mortgage bonds in payment.—*Corres. ATLANTA, GA., Atlanta & Geo. R. R. Co., July 28, 1869.
MESSRS. ADAIR & BRO., Atlanta, Ga.—GENTLEMEN: We received yours a few days since, requesting a statement of the merits of the Gullett Gin purchased of you last year. I have to say of this Gin that it is decidedly the best Gin of which we have any knowledge. The workmanship of the machine is very superior, every part of it being made with great care, and the boxes and shafts being set in a cast iron frame, admitting of no springing or working. It runs with a smoothness and steadiness seldom attained in such machines. The improvements of this Gin are, 1st, It takes the dirt and trash out of the cotton. 2d. It, by means of the steel brush wheel, combs out the lint, and renders the fibre much longer than the ordinary Gin, or, at least, makes the cotton show a much longer fibre. These two improvements gives cotton ginned on this Gin, we think, fully the advantage of 1¼ cents per pound in value over cotton of the same kind ginned on the ordinary gin; and when the cotton in the seed is very trashy and dirty, or contains a great many hard locks, it may add more to the market value of the lint. We could perceive no difference between the draught of this Gin and the old one we replaced by it of the same number of saws. The Gullett Gin certainly deserves the attention of planters.
Very respectfully,
J. C. & R. GARLINGTON.

DR. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR
Medicine for Dyspepsia, Headache Jaundice, Costiveness, Camp Dysentery, Sick Headache, Chronic Diarrhœa, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fever, Nervousness, Piles, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood, Melancholy or Depression of Spirits.
Most of the ailments here enumerated have their origin in a diseased liver, which is the most prevalent affection in this country, and as in many cases the patient is not within the reach of a physician, it requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be active and safe. That such is the character of the SIMMONS REGULATOR there can be no doubt, which the testimony of hundreds will establish.
SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED LIVER.
Pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade is mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, a full complaint or a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several or many of these symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when few of them existed, yet examination of the body after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged.
It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the foregoing symptoms appear. It is a purely vegetable compound, is not injurious to the most delicate constitutions, and will keep the liver in healthy action if used properly.
Persons living in unhealthy localities may avoid all bilious attacks by taking a dose occasionally to keep the liver in healthy action.
DR. SIMMONS' Liver Regulator
For children complaining of colds, headache, or sick stomach, a teaspoonful or more will give relief. Children, as well as adults, eat sometimes too much supper or eat something which does not digest well, producing nightmare, heart-burn, or restlessness; a good dose will give relief. This applies to persons of all ages.
Many persons, from eating too much, are restless at night, or in day time sleepy, wool-gathering, can't understand what they read, can't keep their thoughts on any one subject so as to reason well, or become fretful. One or two tablespoonful will give relief.
Pregnant ladies will find sure relief from their headache, coss tongues, swimming in the head, colds, sour stomach, distresses, &c., &c.

DR. HUNTER
CONTINUES to treat all private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis; and all urinary diseases, and the effects of chicanery are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects: as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, constipation, aversion to society, insanity, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally prostration of the vital powers, can be fully restored to health. Persons afflicted with this, or any other delicate, intricate, or long standing constitutional complaint, should give the Doctor a trial. He never fails.
The Doctor publishes a medical circular that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at his office, or by mail for one stamp. It gives a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringement of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposures, and imprudences in married or single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by writing a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others, daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlet at office free or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Office No. 163 Third street, between Green and Walnut streets, near the Postoffice, Louisville. Office hours, 9 A. M., to 2 P. M.; Sundays, 10 A. M. to 12 M. june28-d&wly

The "Tilton" style of Buggy, for workmanship and material has NO EQUAL. Always the "Albot" buggy. My Repository, one of the largest in the city, possesses the advantage in its location of costing less than half the rent of those up town and consequently my vehicles at less price.
Those who have had my work, requires no reference, but to those desiring, I would respectfully refer to
For my new style of stickless Buggy I refer to Messrs. Jno. M. Clark & Son, attorneys at law, Atlanta, Ga., who have recently purchased one.
